

Foreign White Shorthair & Foreign White Longhair

General Standard

The Foreign White is a medium-sized, beautifully balanced, with head, ears and neck carried on a long, svelte, well-muscled body, supported on slender legs, with feet and tail in proportion. The head and profile should be wedge-shaped, neither round nor pointed. The expression is alert and intelligent. Males are generally larger than females.

The Foreign White Longhair is a semi longhaired cat. Due to the coat length, the Foreign White Longhair appears to have softer lines and less extreme type. The long hair may diffuse but never conceal the Siamese type.

Head	Tapering wedge that is medium in size and in proportion to the body. The wedge starts at the nose and flares out in straight lines to the tip of the ears, an equilateral triangle being the ideal, slightly convex across the top of the skull, forehead flat (this is the area between ear base and top of eye opening) with no break at the whiskers and a fine muzzle. When the whiskers are smoothed back, the underlying straight bone structure is apparent. Allowance is made for jowls in stud males. In profile, the straight line formed from the nose leather to the centre of the forehead changes angle slightly and curves over the top of the skull and flows smoothly into the neck, without any irregularity.
Ears	Large, wide at the base, flared, with good width between and continuing the line of the wedge. NOTE: In kittens, the ears may appear to be oversized and fall outside the line of the wedge. Allowance may be made for this.
Eyes	Oriental in shape, with no less than the width of an eye between them. They are medium in size, slanting slightly downward towards the nose, in harmony with the lines of the wedge, ears and head size. They are neither protruding nor recessed and there must be no permanent squint.
Nose	Long, straight and of even width, with no dip or rise. CHEEKS: In line with the wedge, neither protruding nor too narrow.
Jaws	Fine, wedge-shaped and medium in size.
Chin	Firm, completing the line of the wedge. In profile, it is of good depth and in a vertical line with the tip of the nose.
Neck	Long and slender, in proportion to the body; being one of the features which gives elegance to these cats.
Body	Medium in size, long, svelte and elegant, with fine bones and firm muscles. The abdomen is tight, the body tubular, with the shoulder and hips continuing the sleek, straight lines of the body. The rib cage is oval when viewed from the front.
Tail	Long, whip-like, tapering from the base to the tip, in proportion to the body, and without kink.
Legs	Long, slim and elegant, in proportion to the body. The hind legs are slightly longer than the front legs.
Paws	Small and oval.

Faults & Penalties

Refer to general list of faults for all breeds plus:

Penalise:

- Ears too small, too large or incorrectly set.
- Narrow head or bone defect at back of head.
- Eyes too small, large or round, protruding or recessed.
- Indentation in skull above brow (except in kittens).
- Roman nose, profile dip or stop or dip at end of nose.
- Muzzle pinch.
- Any suggestion of coarseness or extreme fineness.
- Incorrect body colour according to the standard.
- Incorrect colour of nose leather or paw pads.
- Coloured hairs (except capping in kittens).
- Any yellow tinge or staining in the coat.
- Overlong or shaggy coat (Shorthair).
- Lack of plumed tail (Longhair).
- Definite double or woolly coat or ruff (Longhair).

Withhold:

- Incorrect eye colour.

Coat & Colour

Coat Length & Texture	Shorthair: Very short, fine, glossy and lying close to the body. Longhair: Semi-long, fine and silky in texture, without undercoat. It will normally be shorter on the head and shoulders. It is not desirable to have any tendency towards a frill in the neck or throat area. Fine ear furnishings are preferred. Ear tufts may occur. The coat lies mainly flat along the body, but is feathery along the underparts and britches. The tail plume should be long and feathery. NOTE: Kittens may be slow to develop adult coat length.
Coat Colour & Pattern	Pure, glistening white, untinged in any way. Kittens may have a coloured cap or a few coloured hairs on the head and should not be penalised for this
Eye Colour	Clear, deep, brilliant blue.
Nose Leather & Paw Pads	Pink
