

Scottish Shorthair & Scottish Longhair

General Standard

The standard for the Scottish is the same as for the Scottish Fold in all respects apart from the ears, which are not folded, but erect on the head. Males are generally larger than females.

Head	Well-rounded with prominent cheeks, has well-defined whisker pads, and is well set on a short neck. Allowance should be made for jowls in adult males. In profile, the head is rounded, balanced front and back, with a slight nose stop and good depth of chin.
Ears	Medium, straight, with rounded tips and well furnished. They are set well apart but are moderately high on the rounded head.
Eyes	Large, well-rounded, well opened, with the width of an eye between the eyes, creating a sweet expression.
Nose	Short and broad. In profile, it has a gentle curve. A slight stop is permitted, but a definite nose break is a fault.
Cheeks	Prominent and rounded, with well-defined whisker pads.
Jaws	Rounded, not pointed, pinched or square.
Chin	Firm. In profile, of good depth and in a vertical line with the tip of the nose.
Neck	Short.
Body	Medium, rounded and well-padded with no hint of coarseness. It has a level back, good depth of chest and is equal in girth from shoulder to rump.
Tail	Medium to long, in proportion to the body, reasonably broad at the base, flexible along the entire length and tapering. A longer tapering tail is preferred.
Legs	Strongly boned and of medium length. There should be no stiffness or lack of mobility due to distortion or rigidity in the leg bones and joints.
Paws	Neat and well rounded.

Faults & Penalties

Refer to general list of faults for all breeds plus:

Penalise:

- Large or high-set ears.
- Small or close-set eyes.
- Definite nose break or defined stop.
- Uneven bite or weak chin.

- Muzzle pinch.
- Splayed toes.
- Fine boning or lack of size.
- Cottony coat in longhair varieties.

Withhold:

- Coarseness, distortion or abnormality of the leg bones.
- Foreshortened, thick, inflexible or kinked tail.

Coat & Colour

Coat Colour	Can be in all recognised colours and patterns.
Coat length & texture	Shorthair: Medium short, dense, soft and resilient, without the bounce of the British Shorthair coat. Texture may vary due to colour and/or regional or seasonal variation. Longhair: Medium to long. Full coat on face and body is desirable, but short hair is permissible on the face and legs. Britches, tail plume and toe tufts should be visible with a ruff being desirable. Seriously penalise for a cottony coat.
Eye rims & nose leather	To harmonise with coat colour.
Paw pads & eye colour	To harmonise with coat colour.
